“A good experience is simple, but

My name is Melanie, and I work at Network Health.

What I love most about camping is the simple things—being outside, building a fire and going hiking. I think for a brand it's the simple things and experiences that matter to customers, too. Things like personal service and showing that you care. Even just asking people for their thoughts and taking their feedback. We're always thinking about what the experience is going to look like for the customer and trying to find ways to make it a positive one.

KYLE RECHLICZ

HEAD COACH

SEVENTH SEASON

WISCONSIN (2003)

Kyle Rechlicz enters her seventh season as the head coach of the Milwaukee women's basketball team in 2018-19.

Rechlicz has quickly led Milwaukee back to a place of prominence and seemingly completely rewritten the record book, headlined by trips to the postseason in each of the last three seasons, racking up a combined 62 wins over that span - the most wins in that time in program history.

The 2017-18 season was another memorable one for the Panthers. Rechlicz coached her team to 21 wins - the second-highest total in program history and marking the first time since moving to Division-I with back-to-back 20-win seasons. The team earned an at-large berth to the Postseason WNIT, opening things up with an impressive 81-67 road win.

Rechlicz also coached a pair of players to postseason honors last year. Steph Kostowicz and Jenny Lindner were both named to the All-Horizon League teams, marking the first time since 2005-06 that Milwaukee earned a pair of representatives on the 10-player all-league team. Panther players also have been recognized with Horizon League Athlete of the Week honors 13 times over the past three standout seasons.

Rechlicz has quickly made her name known and within the region in making Milwaukee a force to be reckoned with. Just last year alone, the Panther took down two Big Ten foes (Wisconsin and Northwestern) on the road to go with five wins over fellow Mid-Major ranked opponents. That comes one year after beating in-state rivals Wisconsin (80-63) and Green Bay (72-60) for the first time in the same season in 25 years.

2016-17 was the first with higher expectations at Milwaukee in some time and Rechlicz made sure her team delivered in multiple ways:

- UWM put together a 22-12 campaign to tie the 2005-06 squad for the most wins in program history.
- Milwaukee won its first two postseason games in program history with a trip to the WBI semifinal.

- The Panthers powered to an early season tournament win with back-to-back victories at the TD Bank Classic in Burlington, Vt.
- Milwaukee beat in-state rivals Wisconsin (80-63) and Green Bay (72-60) for the first time in the same season in 25 years.

That all came just one year after Rechlicz made a big splash in 2015-16. Despite being picked ninth in the 10-team Horizon League, Rechlicz guided that team to a second-place finish in both the regular season and conference tournament. That marked just the third time in league history that a team finished in the bottom two one year and the top two the following season for an incredible turnaround. That earned Milwaukee a berth in the WNIT - the team's first postseason appearance in a decade and just third overall, finishing with a 19-13 overall record.

For all of her efforts, Rechlicz was named Horizon League Coach of the Year in 2016, becoming just the second coach in program history to earn that distinction.

Rechlicz's players also earned plenty of praise over the past two seasons at Milwaukee. Steph Kostowicz has been named all-league each of the past two years, while Lizzie Odegard became the second UWM player named to the All-Freshman team in the last three years. Panther players also have been recognized with Horizon League Athlete of the Week honors 10 times over the past two standout seasons.

Looking back, the writing was on the wall for all this success for Rechlicz. In 2014-15, her team claimed UWM's first postseason victory in five years, featured a first-team all-league selection for the first time since 2010-11 and also had a member of the league's all-freshman squad for the first time in four seasons.

Rechlicz brings an up-tempo offense that finished the 2016-17 campaign with near-record three-point totals once again. In fact, four of the top five marks in the record book for both three-pointers made and three-pointers attempted have all occurred in Rechlicz's tenure at Milwaukee.

In her first season on the sidelines with the Panthers, Rechlicz helped the UWM offense increase scoring by almost 15 percent from the previous year and included a record-setting three-point attack. Milwaukee broke school records for three-pointers made and three-pointers attempted and was among the best in all of the NCAA in three-pointers made per game and three-point field goal percentage.

Her team broke three Horizon League records and 10 different school records, including fewest turnovers per game and a new standard for points in a contest when the Panthers finished with 116 against Bradley.

In addition to scoring, her teams also take care of the ball. The Panthers broke the school record for fewest turnovers per game her first season, reset it her second season and now hold the top three spots.

She also got off to a great start - becoming the first UWM coach to win three of her first five

Rechlicz as a Player (1998-2002)

Rechlicz spent four seasons at the University of Wisconsin, helping lead the Badgers to four postseason appearances, including NCAA tournament berths in 2001 and 2002. She was one of Wisconsin's premier 3-point shooters, setting a then-school record with seven 3-pointers in collecting a career-high 26 points against Holy Cross (12/2/01). She led the Big Ten Conference as a junior in 3PT field goal percentage at .406. As a senior, Rechlicz earned her second Academic All-Big Ten honor while averaging a career-best 12.1 points per game.

In 123 career games, Rechlicz made 63 starts and averaged 7.9 points and 2.0 rebounds per game. Her career free throw percentage of .776 (121-of-156) would rank fifth all-time, but falls just below Wisconsin's 150 career make minimum.

contests of her initial campaign. In her first season, Rechlicz was also one of the youngest coaches at the NCAA Division I level - just seven coaches had earlier birth years when the 2012-13 campaign began.

Rechlicz was named the seventh coach in program history in May 2012 and came to Milwaukee from the University of Wisconsin. There she served as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for the Badgers during the 2011-12 campaign.

Many Wisconsin basketball fans may better know Rechlicz as Kyle Black, who was a key member of very successful UW women's basketball teams from 1998-2002. For the 2000-01 and 2001-02 teams that went to the NCAA tournament, she served as co-captain and was named to the Academic All-Big Ten Team.

Since her playing days, Rechlicz has been associate head coach and recruiting coordinator for the University of Dayton (2007-2011) and the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for Cleveland State (2003-2007).

Rechlicz, who was brought back to her alma mater in April 2011 by then first-year head coach Bobbie Kelsey, directed the UW-Madison recruiting efforts that led to the signing of five highly regarded players and one transfer from Connecticut. She also assisted with all aspects of on-court coaching, with specific responsibility for player preparation and skill development of guards.

As a Badger, Rechlicz helped guide Wisconsin to four postseason appearances, including NCAA tournament berths in 2001 and 2002. She was one of Wisconsin's premier 3-point shooters, setting a school record with seven 3-pointers in collecting a career-high 26 points against Holy Cross. She led the Big Ten Conference in three-point field goal percentage as a junior, hitting 40.6 percent from beyond the arc. As a senior, Rechlicz earned her second Academic All-Big Ten honor while averaging a career-best 12.1 points per game.

The Flyers made four postseason appearances during Rechlicz's tenure there, including two NCAA tournament berths. Dayton advanced to the second round of the NCAA tournament in 2009-10, finishing 25-8 on the season. The Flyers also appeared in the NCAA tournament in 2010, losing in the first round to Penn State. Dayton made WNIT appearances in 2008 and 2009, advancing to the second round in 2009.

ANYA COVINGTON

ASSISTANT COACH

THIRD SEASON

WISCONSIN (2012)

Anya Covington begins her third season as an assistant women's basketball coach for the 2018-19 season.

In her first two years on campus, Covington already made a big impact by helping the Panthers tie the program record with 22 wins in year one and following that up with 21 wins last season. Milwaukee also reached the postseason each of those seasons, winning their first ever Postseason WNIT contest this past season after advancing to the WBI semifinals two years ago.

Covington played an instrumental role with the Milwaukee coaching staff this past season. She helped the Panthers lock down defensively for one of their best seasons in program history, limiting opponents to just 61.0 points/game last year.

Individually, she helped seniors Steph Kostowicz and Jenny Lindner earn All-Horizon League honors, with Kostowicz breaking the school records for blocks in a single season (61) and career (174). As a team, the Panthers shattered the program record for blocks in a season with 124, well ahead of the previous high of 109.

Covington came to Milwaukee after one season at UW-Madison. Prior to coaching the Badgers, Covington spent the 2014-15 season as an assistant coach with the University of Evansville. While with the Purple Aces, Covington helped coach forward Mallory Ladd to a spot on the 2015 Missouri Valley Conference All-Tournament team to go along with honorable mention all-conference honors.

Following her playing career, Covington started out her coaching profession as a graduate assistant coach for Northern Illinois in 2013-14.

Covington was also a standout on the court. Playing collegiately for Wisconsin, she appeared in 123 games in her four-year career and served as a captain her sophomore, junior and senior seasons with the Badgers. Covington was named honorable mention All-Big Ten as a senior after averaging 10.3 points and 6.4 rebounds per game. In addition, Covington was a two-time recipient of the Big Ten Sportsmanship Award, as well as serving on the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Issues Committee.

After graduation, Covington continued her playing career in the professional ranks overseas on a USA team against Ukraine and

STACY CANTLEY

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST SEASON

UNC WILMINGTON (1999)

Stacy Cantley has been hired as an assistant basketball coach with the Milwaukee women's basketball team heading into the 2018-19 season.

Cantley – who brings over 20 years of coaching experience – comes to Milwaukee after spending her last three years at Western Carolina.

“Stacy brings a wealth of experience to our young team and is someone that I sincerely trust in the coaching world,” Rechlicz said. “She will be a tremendous asset to strengthening our player development and in game-strategy. She has also worked under a variety of head coaches and will be a great resource to us as we continue to build our legacy. I look forward to watching our student-athletes grow under her leadership.”

Prior to her time with the Catamounts, Cantley spent four seasons at Wisconsin. While with the Badgers, she spent her first season on the bench alongside Rechlicz in 2010-11. She also coached current Panther assistant Anya Covington for two seasons, helping her earn All-Big Ten honors as a senior.

“I am extremely grateful and excited to be a part of the Milwaukee women's basketball program,” Cantley said. “I had the opportunity to work alongside coach Rechlicz for one season in Madison, and I knew she would be a great leader of her own program. The dedication and passion that she and the staff exemplify for this program and university is what has made them successful. I am honored to work with not only great coaches, but even better people here at Milwaukee!”

Before her time in Madison, Cantley was part of a long run of success at Virginia Tech. She helped the Hokies rack up 110 wins in her seven years in Blacksburg, advancing to three postseason tournaments, including two NCAA Tournament appearances. While with the Hokies, Cantley coached two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference honoree Kerri Gardin and Nare Diawara, the highest WNBA draftee in Virginia Tech history.

Cantley had an earlier run at Western Carolina from 2001-04. The Catamounts won 21 games in 2002-03 behind first-team All-Southern Conference selection Jennifer Gardner.

JAIME GLUESING

ASSISTANT COACH

THIRD SEASON

FLORIDA GULF COAST (2016)

Jaime Gluesing has been promoted to an assistant coach with the Milwaukee women's basketball team for the 2018-19 season.

Gluesing spent the past two seasons on the bench with the Panthers as a graduate manager and video analyst before graduating with her master's degree in Administrative Leadership this spring.

"Moving Jaime up to an assistant coaching position was an easy decision for me," Rechlicz said. "She has been extremely loyal and her work ethic is unmatched. She will do a great job leading our recruiting efforts as the recruiting coordinator, since her organizational and creative skills are top-notch. I am thrilled to have the opportunity to continue to help her grow in this profession."

Gluesing has played an integral part in her first two seasons with Milwaukee, helping the Panthers to unprecedented heights. Last year, MKE earned its first ever at-large bid to the WNIT where it won its First Round contest before falling to eventual champion Indiana. That concluded an impressive 21-win season – the first time Milwaukee recorded back-to-back 20-win seasons in program history.

"I am so grateful for the opportunity given to me by coach Rechlicz to continue on as an assistant coach here at Milwaukee," Gluesing said. "My years as the graduate assistant gave me ample experience and opportunity to learn the system and culture of the program. I am looking forward to contributing more in my capacity as an assistant coach."

In 2016-17, the team tied the program record with 22 wins and notched the first two postseason victories in program history with a run to the semifinals of the WBI in late March.

Gluesing came to Milwaukee after a successful four-year playing career at Florida Gulf Coast University. While at FGCU, Gluesing made 62 career starts and played in all but one game during her collegiate career. She helped the Eagles to postseason play all four seasons, including two trips to the NCAA Tournament and a run all the way to the WNIT Championship Game her senior year, finishing as runners up.

MARIAH KNOX

VIDEO ANALYST

FIRST SEASON

KANSAS WESLEYAN (2018)

Kyle Rechlicz has announced the addition of Mariah Knox as a graduate manager and video analyst to the Milwaukee women's basketball staff for the 2018-19 season.

"We are thrilled to announce that Mariah will be joining our Panther family," Rechlicz said. "Her tireless work ethic and positive mindset is exactly what we are looking for in our next graduate assistant. She is in coaching for all the right reasons and her values match our culture perfectly here at Milwaukee. I know Mariah will enhance our program in a multitude of ways. I can't wait to mentor and help her grow into the great coach that I know she will be in a few years."

Knox comes to Milwaukee after a successful four-year collegiate career, spending the last two and Kansas Wesleyan in Salina, Kan. With the Coyotes, Knox finished averaging 8.3 points and 4.3 rebounds per game, including starting 29 of 31 games as junior to help lead KWU to a 20-12 record. That came after spending her first two collegiate seasons at John Brown University in Siloam Springs, Ark. In all, Knox racked up an impressive 65 wins over her four years on the court.

From the coaching side of the game, Knox also already has a handful of experience despite just graduating college. She has worked as a coach as basketball camps for the last six years and interned with the U.S. Junior Nationals this past summer in Champaign, Ill. Under the direction of Chris Mennig and Mike Flynn, Knox played a vital role with the USJN/Bluestar staff. She directed daily tournament operations, managed tournament staff, analyzed and conducted player evaluations, collected and organized inventory and communicated regularly with parents and officials.

"I am so enthused by the passion coach Kyle Rechlicz and her staff have for UWM," Knox said. "I am eager to learn, grow and give all that I can to coach Rechlicz and the Milwaukee women's basketball program. I knew Milwaukee was exactly where I wanted to be. Their emphasis on hard work, trust and family within the team spoke volumes about the culture and dedication they have to continue their success. I am honored to be a part of this program and compete for a championship with the Panthers!"

Knox recently graduated from KWU with her bachelor's degree in Sports and Exercise Science with an emphasis in personal training and coaching.

It's "Milwaukee"

A lot has been made of the correct way to talk about the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, especially in the area of athletics. It would be appreciated if you would refer to the athletics teams as either "Milwaukee" or "MKE". Your cooperation in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Milwaukee Athletics is making an effort to brand itself as "Milwaukee" instead of other references. Please avoid UW-Milwaukee, UW-M, Wisc.-Mil, UW-MIL, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, etc. We appreciate your assistance with this effort in advance.

Additionally, please refrain from any "lady Panther" references. All Milwaukee women's sports are still simply referred to as the Panthers.

Program History

While women's basketball was not granted varsity status until 1971, women were playing the new-fangled game at the Milwaukee State Normal School as far back as 1896, the same year as the men.

UWM became known as the "Panthers" in 1965. Prior to that, the athletic teams were known as the Cardinals from 1956-65 and the Green Gulls before that, starting in 1927. During the Green Gull period, the athletic teams were alternatively known as the "Green Wave." Before 1927, the school had no official nickname, though the teams were called the "Normals."

The first women's varsity game involving UWM was a loss to UW-Oshkosh on Jan. 27, 1971. No recorded score is available for that game. The Panthers' first women's home game was a 47-35 loss to the same Oshkosh team Feb. 4.

Coached by Erika Sander, UWM finished its first season with a 4-3 record, gaining its first victory Feb. 12 at UW-Platteville, 46-30.

Sander coached the team through the 1975-76 season and, after one-year stints by Linda Borowski and Nancy Schley, M.A. Kelling took the reins of the women's basketball program.

Kelling led the Panthers from 1978-95. In her second year, UWM went 17-10 after winning 23 games in the seven years prior to her arrival. The 1981-82 season was Milwaukee's final as a member of the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIWA), which the school had been affiliated with since 1971. That year, UWM went 18-12 and qualified for the AIWA Regional for the second-straight year.

From 1974 to 1984, UWM competed in the Wisconsin Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WWIAC). While early records are incomplete, the Panthers did put together an impressive run over their last six years in the conference. Milwaukee's record improved each year, with a pair of third-place division finishes followed by a second-place finish and two division titles.

The latter years of that stretch marked the beginning of the most dominant era in UWM women's basketball. Between 1982 and 1988 the Panthers won at least 20 games in five of six seasons. The stretch culminated with a 25-5 mark (.835) in 1987-88.

Milwaukee became affiliated with the NAIA in 1982-83 and immediately won a District 14 Championship. It was the first of three-straight titles. In both 1983-84 and 1984-85, the Panthers won a school-record 25 games, defeated Green Bay in the District Championship and Bemidji State in the Bi-District title and advanced to the NAIA Championship Quarterfinals.

The 1983-84 team featured four players that would be inducted into the Milwaukee Athletics Hall of Fame, including Carol Busche (1996), Maureen Pitrof (1997), Deb Schulman (1994) and Darla Wack (1999).

Milwaukee won another District 14 Championship in 1987-88 and made title-game appearances in 1985-86, 1986-87 and 1988-89. The leader of those teams was All-American Umenia White. When she left UWM, she was the second-leading scorer and just four rebounds shy of being the second 1,000-point, 1,000-rebound player. She would later be inducted into the UWM Hall of Fame.

In 1990-91, women's basketball and the bulk of the UWM Athletic Department and made the jump to NCAA Division I.

Competing as a Division I Independent from 1990-93, Milwaukee went 43-39 against its predominantly D-I schedule before joining the Mid-Continent Conference for the 1993-94 season. The next year, the Panthers moved to the former Midwestern Collegiate Conference, now the Horizon League.

After a 4-22 record in 1995-96, Sandy Botham took over the program and guided UWM to a 16-12 record in her first year. It marked the eighth-best turnaround in Division I that year. In fact, between the 1999-2000 season and 2005-06, Milwaukee did not finish below second once.

The 2000-01 season was a milestone year for Milwaukee, as it set a school D-I record for wins, won the team's first-ever conference championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history. That squad broke a number of school records with the emergence of Jessica Wilhite, then a sophomore, and Maria Viall in her first year.

Wilhite shattered the school record with 93 three-pointers and was on her way to a school-record 277 for her career. She graduated as the school's Division I all-time leading scorer. For Viall, it was the first of four standout seasons for UWM. She would go on to break Jaci Clark's career scoring record and become the first two-time League Player of the Year in school history (2002 and 2004).

The Panthers once again rose to the pinnacle of the league in 2005-06, rolling to a 14-2 league record. With that came the team's first No. 1 seed for a league tournament in the Division I era. Milwaukee then went through the league tourney on its home floor to capture a second tournament title. UWM went to the NCAA Tournament and received a 13th seed before falling to Michigan State.

Milwaukee returned to the postseason after an incredible run during the 2015-16 campaign. Despite being picked ninth of 10 in the Horizon League preseason poll, UWM went 12-6 in league play and 19-13 overall, finishing second in both the regular season and conference tournament. That earned them a berth to the WNIT where they came within one possession late of pulling off the upset on the road against Big Ten foe Minnesota.

MKE followed that up with another record-breaking season in 2016-17, tying the school record with 22 wins and berth to the WBI. There, the Panthers notched the first ever postseason win in the Division I history of the program, advancing all the way to the semifinals before finishing the season 22-12 overall.

The Panthers made it to the postseason for a third consecutive time with its first-ever at-large berth into the Postseason WNIT in 2017-18. Milwaukee broke the program record for shooting percentage in a game by connecting on 69.4 percent (34-49) of its attempts in an 81-67 road win at Northern Iowa. A few days later, the Panthers' season came to an end at historic Assembly Hall with a loss to eventual tournament champs Indiana, closing out another memorable season with a 21-12 record.

Horizon League Players of the Year

Traci Edwards • 2008-09

Edwards capped her career in a Panther uniform with a second League Player of the Year award in 2008-09 when she shared the award with Cleveland State's Kailey Klein. Edwards led the league in scoring and rebounding for the third-straight year. She had been the first player in league history to do so twice. She also secured her place in school, league and state history. She became the first woman in school, league or state history with 2,000 career points and 1,000 rebounds. She also became the all-time leading scoring in school (men or women), league and state history.

Traci Edwards • 2007-08

Edwards was named the Horizon League Preseason Player of the Year and did not disappoint once the season started. She averaged 20.6 points per game and added 9.7 rebounds per contest. Her scoring average and 639 total points set school records, while she became the first player in league history to lead the league in both scoring and rebounding in back-to-back seasons. The highlight of her season was scoring a school-record 45 points at Loyola. In doing so, she shot 12-of-14 from the field and hit a school-record 20 free throws in 22 attempts.

Maria Viall • 2003-04

Viall became the first Panther in the team's Division I history to average a double-double for a season when she averaged a league-best 18.2 points and 10.9 rebounds per game as a senior. She was just the second player to lead the league in both categories in a season on her way to becoming the third multi-player of the year honoree. She also topped the circuit with a 52% field goal percentage. With her strong senior campaign, Viall finished as the school's all-time leading scorer, among men or women, and also broke the school Division I record for rebounds in a season and a career.

Maria Viall • 2001-02

As a sophomore, Viall was the dominant inside presence on the program's first Division I 20-win season. Milwaukee went 20-8 and posted a 14-2 record in league play. She averaged 16.7 points and 6.8 rebounds per game while shooting a school-record and league-best 57.7% from the field. She also reached double-figures in 26-of-28 games played and became the first player in the team's Division I history to top 30 points in a game twice in one season.

Jen Greger • 1996-97

Greger was the centerpiece of the one of the largest turnarounds in the nation in 1996-97 under first-year head coach Sandy Botham. After Milwaukee won six combined games over her sophomore and junior seasons, she guided the Panthers to a 16-12 record, leading the team with a school-record 552 points and 123 assists. She also led the league in scoring with another school record of 19.7 points per game and was among league leaders with 4.4 assists per contest. During the season, she scored a school-record 36 points in a game, surpassed the 1,000-point mark and became the school's Division I career scoring leader with 1,385 points.

Milwaukee advanced to postseason play for the third-straight year in 2017-18, earning the program's first ever at-large berth to the WNIT, advancing to the second round before falling at eventual champion Indiana.

The Panthers were led all season long by a group of special seniors that finished with the most wins by a graduating class in program history, as Kelsey Cunningham, Bailey Farley, Steph Kostowicz and Jenny Lindner combined to finish with 72 wins in their four years in the Black & Gold.

While the 2017-18 season ended on a big stage, it also started on one as MKE began the year playing the prestigious Preseason WNIT for the second time in program history. After dropping a very close decision in the opener at Drake, the Panthers traveled to New Orleans, where they went 1-1 against Houston and CSUN.

That proved to be the start of a big run for Milwaukee, rattling off eight straight - the fourth longest win streak in the program's Division I history.

Among those eight wins were a pair against the Big Ten - both on the road. Milwaukee took down Northwestern in convincing fashion, 66-57, before making it two years in a row with a win over in-state rival Wisconsin with a 67-64 win inside the Kohl Center on Dec. 14.

In all, the Panthers would finish their best non-conference start in program history at 9-3.

That success would carry over in conference play against what proved to be the deepest mid-major conference in the country in 2018, with five teams qualifying for postseason play.

Rechlicz would guide her team through various injuries and a difficult league slate to an 11-7 Horizon-League record. After just missing a big comeback win - a theme for this year's squad - in the conference tournament inside brand new Little Caesar's Arena, the Panthers were forced to wait to see if they would be making yet another postseason appearance.

The call came and Milwaukee was on its way to Cedar Falls, Iowa for the WNIT. Sophomore Jamie Reit poured in a career-high 21 points, Jenny Lindner didn't miss a shot (8-for-8 from the field, 2-for-2 from the free throw line) and Steph Kostowicz just missed a triple double with 13 points, a career-high 12 assists and seven rebounds. As a team, MKE shot a program-best 69.4 percent (34-49) from the floor in an 81-67 first round win.

The hot shooting ran out one game later in a second-round loss at eventual champion Indiana from historic Assembly Hall.

The 2016-17 season was a memorable one for a number of reasons for Milwaukee, with a large portion of those memories forming around the team's impressive run in the WBI postseason tournament.

One year after a runner-up finish in the Horizon League and a berth to the WNIT, the Panthers had high hopes entering the year with nearly the entire starting lineup returning.

Those high hopes were not disappointed, as Milwaukee stormed out of the gates. The team started the year with seven wins in its first eight games, including a tournament title at the TD Bank Classic in Vermont over the Thanksgiving holiday and a lopsided 80-63 handling of in-state rival Wisconsin. That led to College Insider placing UWM 20th in their mid-major poll - the first ranking in program history.

The Panthers carried that early success into another strong showing during the league slate, with more memorable wins - headlined by the 72-60 win over rival Green Bay at home.

After coming up just short in the league tournament semifinals, the Panthers were selected to the WBI - marking the first time in Division I history UWM played in back-to-back postseason tournaments.

Milwaukee started things off with a dominating 81-53 win at home over Southern Illinois. The Panthers shot nearly 60-percent from the floor for the game and all 12 players saw significant minutes to secure Milwaukee's first postseason win in the D-I era.

UWM then made the trip to Loretto, Penn. to take on host Saint Francis four days later. Trailing at the half, Milwaukee dug deep to reclaim the lead and finished the game going 12-of-14 from the free throw line to secure another postseason victory.

The Panthers postseason run would come to an end four days later after a trip down the coast to Greensboro, N.C. Steph Kostowicz had a huge showing with 15 points, 14 rebounds, four steals and two blocks but it wasn't enough. Shooting an uncharacteristically low 32-percent from the floor, Milwaukee never found its rhythm in a WBI semifinal loss at UNCG.

Despite the result, the Panthers still tied the program record for wins in a year with 22 - equaling the mark set by the 2005-06 team that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Milwaukee also played later into the season than any team before them - with the final game coming on March 23.

The 2015-16 Panthers produced an incredible turnaround that saw them finish runners-up in both the regular season and the Horizon League Tournament, earning the team's first ever berth to the WNIT.

Despite being picked ninth of 10 in the Horizon League preseason poll, the Panthers went 12-6 in league play and 19-13 overall to defy the odds with one of the biggest turnarounds in the entire NCAA.

It took a few weeks for the team to find its rhythm, but once it did the Panthers were hard to beat.

The season was filled with memorable moments, including Sierra Ford-Washington's winner with just seconds left to sink UIC, followed by a buzzer beater to take down Cleveland State inside the Klotsche Center in front of a packed crowd of over 2,000 fans.

Milwaukee had two five-game winning streaks during league play alone, highlighted by three-straight games where they scored over 80 points and held opponents to just 60.

Despite falling short in the Horizon League Tournament Championship, UWM went into its WNIT matchup with Big Ten foe Minnesota with loads of confidence and it showed. Milwaukee led by one at halftime and - behind 30 points and 11 rebounds from Steph Kostowicz - they were within two points with just 1:07 left on the clock. But - behind a herculean effort from Big Ten Player of the Year, Rachel Banham (48 points) - the Gophers escaped with the win.

Kyle Rechlicz was named Horizon League Coach of the Year in her fourth season at the helm of the Panthers, while Kostowicz was named first-team all-league as a sophomore.

In 2006, the Panthers made an emphatic drive into the post-season. They rode a 12-game winning streak to a league regular season crown, league tournament title and the second NCAA Tournament berth in school history.

In fact, UWM headed into the tourney having won 17-of-18 games in the 2006 portion of the schedule.

Milwaukee finished the league regular season at 14-2 to share the regular season title with Green Bay. UWM defeated UWGB twice in the regular season for the first time since 1996-97 to earn the first No. 1 seed in team history.

After a quarterfinal win over Loyola, UWM secured hosting rights for the rest of the tournament.

Playing in front of the hometown fans, senior Molly

O'Brien hit a layup with 4.8 seconds remaining to send the Panthers past Butler in the semis before freshman Traci Edwards' 23-point, nine-rebound, seven-assist performance propelled Milwaukee past UIC in the title game.

UWM earned a No. 13 seed and remained close to home for the NCAA Tournament, playing in nearby Chicago against fourth-seeded Michigan State. The Panthers held their own early on, and led for parts of the opening half, before falling 65-46.

Edwards was the story of the year, netting League Newcomer of the Year and all-league first team honors after averaging 16.1 points and 10.0 rebounds per game. O'Brien and Nichole Drummond provided senior leadership and scoring, each averaging double-digit points per game. Drummond joined Edwards on the league's first team.

Milwaukee made its first trip to the NCAA Tournament with the automatic bid from the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament championship. The Panthers won a share of the regular season league title and, with the second seed, posted three decisive victories for the team's first Division I league championship.

In the NCAA Tournament, UWM drew a road game at No. 5 Duke, falling to the Blue Devils, 96-63.

Despite strong senior leadership, a couple of underclassmen emerged to lead the team on the court. Sophomore Jessica Wilhite and freshman Maria Viall had breakout seasons, while each would go on to score over 1,000 career points.

Wilhite hit a school-record 93 three-pointers on her way to a team-high 15.5 points per game. Included in that figure was a school-record 10 against Green Bay in January and seven more against the Phoenix in the league title game.

Meanwhile, freshman Maria Viall gave Panther fans a preview of what was to come, finishing second on the team in scoring (12.1 ppg) while leading the squad in rebounding (5.9 rpg).

After getting off to starts of 1-3 and 4-7, Milwaukee won 15-of-18 games heading into the NCAA Tournament, including nine-straight wins through the league championship game.

In the league tournament, UWM held Wright State to just 23 percent shooting in the quarterfinals to win, 58-34, before smothering Butler, 80-49. In the title game, Wilhite set tournament records with 36 points and seven three-pointers to lead the charge. Viall added 15 rebounds and seven points for the Panthers.

The Panthers won a third-straight NAIA District 14 Championship and, after knocking off Bemidji State in the Bi-District title game for the second year in a row, advanced to the NAIA Championship for the second time.

Milwaukee led Carson-Newman at halftime in the NAIA Quarterfinals, but fell to the Lady Eagles, 71-68. In a close game throughout, C-N used a 7-0 run with under 2:30 to play to take a four-point lead and hold on for the win. UWM was within one late, but a pair of Eagle free throws provided for the final score.

Milwaukee boasted three UWM Athletic Hall of Fame players in seniors Carol Busche and Darla Wack and freshman Jeanne Look. Busche led the team with 15.8 points and 7.7 rebounds per game on her way to All-America honors.

Milwaukee posted winning streaks of 10 and 11 games on its way to winning a school-record 25 games for the second season in a row. After starting 2-3, the Panthers then won 10-straight before rebounding from a three-game skid and winning their next 11 games heading into the NAIA Quarterfinals.

In the first of two-straight NAIA Tournament appearances, Milwaukee posted a school-record 25 wins and claimed its second-straight District Championship with an 83-74 win over Green Bay.

After topping Bemidji State in the Bi-District Championship, UWM faced Portland in the NAIA Quarterfinals. The Pilots broke a 29-29 halftime tie to come away with the 74-63 victory.

It was no surprise that the 1983-84 Panthers would find so much success, as four players and head coach M.A. Kelling would go on to be inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. One such inductee, Maureen Pitrof, led the team in both scoring (17.3 ppg) and rebounding (9.5 rpg) as a sophomore. Junior Darla Wack and senior Deb Schulman formed a dangerous backcourt for Kelling, averaging over 10 points per game apiece, dishing out over 100 assists each and combining for 155 steals. Pitrof and Schulman garnered All-District honors, while Kelling was named District Coach of the Year.

UWM dropped its first two games of the season on the way to a 2-3 start before winning 14 of the next 15 games, including an 11-game winning streak.

The Panthers then avenged two regular season losses to UWGB and another in the WWIAC semifinals, with their win over the Phoenix in the district finals.

The 1983-84 squad was the first of three 25-win teams in school history. Kelling gives a slight nod to this team as the greatest in school history.

* In 1980, UWM lost to UW-LaCrosse, but defeated UW-Stevens Point to move from Division III (Large Schools) in the WWIAC to Division II.

 In 1983, conference and school records only indicate results from the District 14 Tournament.

 1984 is the only season found that UWM competed in the WWIAC Tournament and the district tournament in the same season.

1971-78: Conference standings and records are not available.

1979-82: Tournament records are WWIAC Tournament and AIAW Regional qualifying tournament. After the AIAW qualifying, a team advanced to the AIAW Regional.

1982-89: UWM competed in a District 14 Tournament with the winner advancing to the Bi-District Championship. Years listed as 'District Champs' notes the Panthers lost in the bi-district title game. The winner of that game would then advance to the NAIA Tournament. In 1982-83, the District 14 champion advanced to the Area IV playoffs.

1987-90: UWM held dual membership in NAIA and NCAA Division II in preparation of a move to Division I, but competed in the NAIA post-season.

Crumble Records Milwaukee's First Triple-Double

Jody Crumble tallied the first triple-double in school history March 9, 2007, in a Horizon League Semifinal contest at No. 22 Green Bay. She finished with 13 points and career highs of 11 rebounds and 11 assists. She tallied seven points, five rebounds and six assists in the second half, helping the Panthers force overtime, after 4-6-3 in the opening frame. Her 10th assist came with 2:02 remaining in overtime. Points 10 and 11 were also key, giving Milwaukee a one-point lead on a layup midway through the second half. The game was just the 12th of her Panther career.
